

The Amelia Island Genealogical Society will hold its regular monthly meeting at 7 p.m. on the 3rd Tuesday, February 18, 2025 in the Community Room at the Fernandina Branch Library.

Come join us with guest speaker Andrew Thompson as he discusses:

Lessons Learned from my African-American Genealogy Research: There is Something for Everybody

This presentation was re-scheduled from our January meeting due to weather. Mr. Thompson will review the best practices and lessons learned during his discovery of over 50 enslaved relatives. His tips will provide practical advice in all areas of Genealogy.

About Andrew Thompson:

Mr. Thompson is an avid genealogist with extensive experience in the historical South Carolina Lowcountry. Andrew's experiences includes research for many clients and genealogists from beginning through advanced levels. Andrew is currently in the process of creating AHistoryWeShare.org, where he and other genealogists perform descendency research for enslaved individuals listed throughout the various archives they encounter. Andrew also currently serves on the Board of Directors for the Amelia Island Genealogical Society.
